Read on to learn about adding a third person to your call in the MultiLine Android app.

Overview

While in an ongoing call, you can add another person to the call.

Before you start

- When using Minutes, your ongoing call screen will look the same as it always does. Only when using Data, will your ongoing call screen look according to these instructions.

Adding a third person to your call

After the call is connected, the Add Call option will display as one of the options on the screen.

1. Select Add Call.
2. Dial the number of the person you want to add to the call.

After the person added answers the call, all three people should be able to have a conversation.
